BONA FIDE CIRCULATION:

2,350!

A Pretty Kettle of Fish.

A candidate for Circuit Judge recently from Magoffin county, a candidate for State Senator recently from West Virginia, a candidate for county judge recently from Wolfe county, a candidate for county attorney recently from Wolfe county and a candidate for county superintendent formerly of Wolfe county.

We do not charge the Republican party with this mess, but only a few of its leaders known as the machine.

How many Republicans in Breathitt county know when and where Adams and Kash were nominated? Who saw any advertisements of the convention? Although we are in the business of gathering news we did not know of it till it was all over. We understood afterwards that it was done in some room in Beattyville by the committee.

Whether A. H. Patton was a candidate while on the train from West Virginia we are unable to say, but we do know that he has been a candidate for various offices since; but the machine has laid him on the shelf by nominating him for a seat in the Senate which will be occupied for the next four years by E. E. Hogg, a native of Kentucky who knows what Kentuckians need and how to get it for them.

If the nomination of a candidate for county judge had been left to the Republicans of Breathitt county does any one believe that Caesar Hurst would have been on the ticket?

Stand up, Julius Caesar Hurst, and spell!

Did you not charter a special train on the O. & K. railroad and offer free transportation and free accommodations to everybody that would come to the convention? How many came from Wolfe and Morgan counties on that train? Did you try to get any of the Republicans from the Middle Fork, the North Fork, George's Branch, Troublesome, Lost Creek or Quicksand to come to the convention?

The old line Republicans, the ones that have fought the battles of their party for years, had to go way back and sit down and let Caesar Hurst, Mite's Crain & Co. nominate a ticket for them to vote for. Will they support it? We hardly think so. They are not bound to do so either by party ties, kinship or local pride, for the machine has cast these to the winds. Look at the vast horde of Government employees—deputy collectors, deputy marshals, storekeepers and gaugers, etc., etc., in our county. How many Breathitt boys can you find among them?

The way to get rid of this machine gang is to snow it under so deeply by your ballots in November that they will never hear the blow of the horn. We will then come into our own—Breathitt county boys can then fill Breathitt county offices.

It is an open secret and not denied that the Republican ticket was dictated by the bosses at the behest of their judicial candidate. That it was named for the purpose of giving him an unobstructed right-of-way to the bench is likewise conceded. But, like the "best laid plans of mice and men," it went "aglee." And the Republicans of this county are in the attitude of having a ticket thrust upon them that is not of their own choosing, in an attempt to secure the ermine for one not of their county, and, too, when that attempt has signally failed. Honestly, now, brother Republican of the farm and home, was your wishes even consulted in the matter?

The Democratic nominees are the choice of the whole citizenship of the party. There was no dictation from bosses. The people met at home and expressed their choice and their wishes ruled. The ticket was chosen by them on account of their fitness for the positions, their personal probity and good standing in the community, and the certainty that they will give the people a faithful administration of public affairs.

The Carpetbagger judicial, senatorial and county ticket are basking over this county in a flock like they were pretty badly "scared." It's no use, boys, the people of Breathitt county are "dead on to you" and your flocking together will not avert the catastrophe that awaits you on the second of November. No use to whistle as you pass through the political cemetery.

What good thing do the Carpet baggers stand for? What would it profit the people if the improbable should happen and they should be elected? Does the personnel of that ticket stand for political rectitude or personal morality? Answer these questions in your own minds before deciding how you will cast your ballots.

Declining Hopes.

Republican hopes as expressed at their convention:

Republican hopes as expressed after the Democratic convention:

As now expressed:

Tom Johnson is not a boy. His forensic efforts before the juries in the prosecution of criminals will not be the labored, monotonous, school-boy, "Ann-can-spin-flax," declamatory style. They will be the vigorous, logical, forceful arguments of an old, able and experienced practitioner.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—I am informed that some one is using my name as a possible candidate for some office on some ticket unbeknown to me and without my knowledge or consent. I positively object to it. I consider that there are but two great political parties and a man, to be a gentleman, must belong to one or the other of them, and a man to belong to any clan as a confuser to either party is not worthy of the attention of decent people or intelligent voters.

All who know me, and especially those who are using my name, know my politics and know that I would in no way accept any nomination in the gift of the people of Breathitt county except it be under the device of the grand old Democratic party.

A large party of surveyors passed through our neighborhood the first of the week it is rumored that they were searching for a right of way for the long talked of R. P. which we are anxious to see started up.

One candidate said to another: "You take the moral voters and give me all the immoral ones and I will beat you five to one." Certainly this man must have a very poor opinion of the people. Yet, however, a man might be guilty of immoral practices himself, he wants the sword of the law, which protects his household, his life, his liberty and his property, placed in the hands of those whom he can trust, and, can one bad man trust another?

Time to Trim Berry Fields.

Now is a good time to trim the raspberry and blackberry fields. Not much fruit can be expected from feeble canes, and even the best canes will not give much fruit if they are too close together. Manure or fertilizer is also required. Blackberry fields have been known to give good service for years without fertilizers, but if the field is given good cultivation and well supplied with plant food the increased yield and better quality of the fruit will make some unprofitable fields pay well.

Birds Necessary to Man's Existence. A French naturalist asserts that if the world should become birdless man could not inhabit it after nine years' time in spite of all the sprays and poisons that could be manufactured for the destruction of insects. The insects and slugs would stultify eat all the orchards and crops in that time.

Best to fish shy of the lure of that old southwest hole until sure of that comes out with a surprise. The reputation of world's fair will look up again if the A. J. P. exposition can swim out.
